WELCOME

GreenTek Planet - Sustainability is the Future

Since 2019, the vibe is elevation by education. Started by a small team of engineers & environmentalists from Long Beach looking to fight climate change, Greentek Planet took off when the LB Collective Association connected them with farmers who were destroying thousands of pounds of plant stalks after their harvest. Using the agriculture residues to make compostable plastics and other products, the team at Greentek was accepted into the LA Cleantech Incubator Cohort 2 to align with the city's initiatives to reduce single waste plastics.

After substantial product development, GreenTek is sharing it's outstanding solutions to the plastic/paper crisis in the Earthstraw, with the first biodegradable straws, utensils and containers made using American hemp, the crop our country depended on for rope, paper, and hundreds of other uses before it was mistakenly banned with its well known, psychedelic sibling. For the forward thinking, GreenTek Planet products are the crown princes of sustainability!

BREAK FREE FROM PLASTIC WITH THE LOW-COST CHAMPIONS OF SUSTAINABILITY

“ECO-FRIENDLY FOR THE SAVVY, THE CLASSY, & THE FRUGAL”

GreenTek Planet is the country’s leading manufacturer dedicated to circular economies in agriculture and plastics. By upcycling the natural byproducts of farmers’ high volume, non-psychoactive hemp harvests, we are able to offer a cost effective, net negative carbon product that employs Americans, cuts down on Greenhouse Gases and plastic waste, and still outperforms those silly paper straws and horrible foam packaging. So enjoy your meal with us, where the Classy and the Savvy sit together.

UPCYCLING LIFESTYLE

They say there’s nothing new under the sun--So reusing what we have is in tune with the Universe, and that’s a rhythm we jam to. Products like EarthStraws, Earthtensils, and Earthtainers are our clever way of reducing the production of unnecessary plastics tied to eating on the go. Made from left-over plant matter and compounded into pulps and resins, this journey from seed to shelf to soil is one worth repeating, over, and over, and over...

LESS CO², MORE COMPOST

Plant fibers are often burned after harvest, releasing Green-House Gases and worsening climate change. GreenTek utilizes these materials to make disposables that stand out from the rest, avoiding confusion with traditional plastics.

When tested in an powered home composters(like Lomi!) and industrial aerated compost heaps with common, active microbes, our products can be reduced to environmentally safe elements. Don’t be fooled by alternatives which never degrade.
